

Dear English 131 Student,

Welcome to English 131 online. For specific information on the course, please go to my website. Click on the English 131 link.

Note: the "95 percent online" means 5 percent of the course involves your coming to campus. You will need to come to campus to write a proctored impromptu on one, possibly two occasions. The impromptu will be in the Learning Lab. I will give you advance notice.

To be in good standing in this course, you need the proper prerequisite, which is a satisfactory test score or a passing grade in English 093. If you took this course thinking you would have the prerequisite and then something happened, you will need to drop the class.

Here is the link to UCompass: <http://henryford.ucompass.com/>. Your UCompass login will not be active until the first day of class.

I look forward to working with you--

Rick Bailey
English and World Languages Division
Henry Ford Community College